

Twenty-Ninth Strategic Workshop (SW'26), May 18-20, 2026

Theme: “Global Digitization”

Preliminary Program

In an increasingly connected world, Global Digitization is reshaping the mode of operation, communication and innovation of the societies. It has the potential to bridge the gap across geographies and promote its inclusion in every sector from education and healthcare to energy, industry and governance. However, embracing this transformation necessitates to address digital equity, data sovereignty and ethical use of technology. To address these dimensions, joint efforts are required from governments, industry and academia to establish strong digital ecosystems, secure technological frameworks and sustainable energy networks. The future of global digitization depends on joint collaboration and shared vision to ensure a sustainable, secure and accessible digital growth for all.
